Hours: Monday-Friday, 7:00 a.m. – 6:00 p.m.

Dear Family,

Welcome!

We are excited to welcome you to Tiny Findings. Our educational facility offers a unique opportunity for children of all backgrounds to learn, play and develop their individuality. Our center offers a warm atmosphere where social and intellectual stimulation are a primary focus. We will help children learn the skills they need to become successful individuals and members of a diverse community.

Tiny Findings uses the Creative Curriculum. This revolutionary teaching program provides children with skills, knowledge, and experience they can use as stepping stones to higher levels of learning. Our center also incorporates cultural diversity in the learning process. Our program celebrates the customs and backgrounds of all children and opens their eyes to the different cultures of their community and the world. All activities reinforce our belief that every child is special.

Our staff of highly qualified educators is ready to start working with you and your child as they begin their educational journey.

This manual will help you answer some of the frequently asked questions about Tiny Findings policies and practices.

While every attempt has been made to ensure that this manual is as comprehensive as possible, the Board of Directors reserves the right to change or revise policies as needed and to make exceptions to Center policies and practices due to unusual circumstances on a case-by-case basis.

Please read through the information and return the last page to us, indicating that you have received, reviewed and agree to follow Tiny Findings policies.

If you have any questions about the policies contained in this manual, feel free to ask!

Again welcome!

Sincerely,

Sonia Middleton

Executive Director

Organizational Structure

Tiny Findings Child Development Center, Inc. (“Tiny Findings,” or “the Center”), is a 501(c)(3), a private, not-for-profit corporation. Our Tax ID number is 52-1639499.

Tiny Findings was established in 1991 to provide on-site care and education for the children of Government Accountability Office (GAO) employees. Tiny Findings is governed by a volunteer Board of Directors and is operated by full-time management staff. Tiny Findings receives donated space, equipment, and services from GAO; in return, employees at GAO HQ benefit from on-site programming for their children.

TINY FINDINGS

Code of Conduct: “Our Commitment to a Healthy Community”

To provide the Tiny Findings community with high-quality care and education and help ensure that relationships fostered within this environment are respectful and supportive of our commitment to providing a healthy community for all children, families, and staff, we pledge to always:

1. Place the welfare, development, and safety of our children as our highest priority;
2. Be respectful of the dignity, worth, and uniqueness of each individual (child, parent, family member, and childcare professional) in our community;
3. Assume our respective roles of building and sustaining a nurturing environment for our children, families, and childcare professionals, as vested members of the Center’s community;
4. Strive to maintain positive interactions with everyone in our Center and to model positive behavior for the sake of our children;
5. Be responsible for maintaining positive adult-child interactions in our Center at all times;
6. Honor the natural rights and roles of parents to act in the best interest of their children;
7. Respectfully draw upon the education, training, experience, and expertise of the Center’s childcare professionals to speak and act as advocates for our children; and
8. Seek to achieve a shared understanding between parents and childcare professionals. When we disagree, we will work together in a respectful manner by clearly expressing our particular needs and perspectives in an effort to achieve positive results.

This pledge applies to all our interactions with members of the Tiny Findings community.

The Executive Director will assess any breaches of this Code of Conduct and will take measures deemed commensurate with the level of the breach(es).

In the event a parent exhibits behavior that is inconsistent with the Tiny Findings’ Code of Conduct, the Executive Director (or, the Board of Directors, as appropriate) will generally impose the following measures, although the Executive Director (or the Board of Directors, as appropriate) reserves the right to take other actions depending on the severity of the breach(es):

1st violation: The Executive Director will issue a written warning to the parent which will be included in the family's file.

2nd violation: The child(ren) of the parent found to be in violation of the Code of Conduct will be suspended from Tiny Findings. The length of time will be determined by the Board of Directors depending on the nature of the current and any past violations. No reimbursement for the cost of childcare will be granted.

3rd violation: The child(ren) of the parent found to be in violation of the Code of Conduct will be expelled from Tiny Findings.

The Board of Directors

Members of the Board of Directors serve a two-year term (about half of the directors are up for reelection each year) and are elected by the corporation members each year at the annual meeting. All parents or guardians of children enrolled in the Center are members of the Tiny Findings Corporation. Membership confers the right to vote for the members of the Board of Directors. Membership is on a one-person, one-vote basis.

The Board of Directors currently consists of 11 voting individuals, six of whom are parents with children enrolled in the Center. The Board can also have up to 5 non-voting members who serve in an advisory capacity: the Tiny Findings Executive Director (or his/her delegate), the GAO Management Representative to the Board, the Army Corps of Engineers Management Representative to the Board, the Executive Office for U.S. Trustees Management Representative, and the past Board Chair. See Tiny Findings bylaws for more information.

The Board manages, controls, and directs the financial affairs and property of Tiny Findings. These duties include: formulating the annual budget; approving tuition, fees, and employee salaries; formulating in consultation with center management financial and admissions policies; and hiring, evaluating, and retaining the Executive Director. The Board retains ultimate oversight of the Center, however, the Board delegates the daily operations of the Center to the Executive Director, including responsibility for recruiting and supervising Center staff, as well as handling routine personnel matters, including disciplinary action. While the Executive Director has discretion regarding such matters, the Executive Director is responsible for keeping the Board of Directors (generally, through the Chair) apprised of personnel matters. Before taking disciplinary action against an employee, the Executive Director consults with the Chair (or other officer, if the Chair is unavailable) regarding such action, except where immediate dismissal is warranted, such as when child safety is affected. In cases where immediate dismissal is necessary, the Executive Director notifies the Chair of the Board as soon as possible of the circumstances resulting in the dismissal.

Board meetings are closed to non-board members. Minutes are not public because the board discusses personnel or other issues that are not for public consumption (generally because of privacy laws). The board will host periodic meetings with members of the corporation to provide updates on Center affairs and will communicate via e-mail as needed.

Board Officers

1. Chair: Serves as the Chief Executive Officer of the Corporation. This person is the principal liaison with the GAO management representative. The Chair is an ex-officio member of all standing committees of the corporation and presides at all meetings of the board at which she or he is present. The Chair performs other duties as may be required of her or him by the Board.
2. Vice Chair: Serves in the place of the chair when the chair is absent or unable to fulfill her or his duties. In addition, the Vice Chair presides at all meetings of the board at which the chair is not present and performs such other functions as the Board shall from time to time determine.
3. Secretary: Keeps an accurate record of the proceedings of all meetings of the Board and performs all duties customary to the office of Secretary.
4. Treasurer: Serves as the Chief Financial Officer of the corporation and performs all duties customary to that office. Specific responsibilities include but are not limited to implementing the Center's budget formulation process; overseeing financial transactions within the Center; maintaining the Center's financial accounts to include it checking accounts, strategic reserves, and credit cards; and evaluating the sufficiency of the Center's liability insurance policies.

The Board of Directors may establish additional officer positions, as appropriate.

Board Committees

1. Executive Committee: Consists of the officers (Chair, Vice Chair, Secretary and Treasurer, as well as any other officer positions established by the Board) and is authorized to act for the Board when Board action is necessary before the next regular board meeting. Reports to the Board at the next regular Board meeting on any action taken by the Executive Committee.

2. Budget and Audit Committee: Provides support to the Treasurer in the execution of that position's responsibilities. Is directly responsible for making investment decisions for the Center's strategic reserves and providing the board with regular updates on the status of those accounts and any changes in investment strategy that may be required.
3. Governance Committee: The Governance Committee shall have responsibility to focus on, and make recommendations to improve, the functions of the Board, including but not limited to the following: (1) providing orientation and mentoring for new Board members; (2) assessing Board Member participation, commitment, and contribution to governance duties; (3) developing and leading periodic Board self-assessments; and (4) evaluating and recommending necessary changes to the Board structure, processes, and guiding documents (such as the by-laws, Board handbook, and policies).
4. Other Committees: The Board has the authority to form other standing committees or ad hoc committees, as it sees fit.

Philosophy and Curriculum

We believe that each child can learn and grow to his or her maximum capacity. We provide high quality care in a group setting taking children's individual needs into account. Our practices are responsive to children's culture. We follow developmentally appropriate practices in the Early Childhood Education field.

Tiny Findings seeks to meet the social-emotional, physical, and cognitive needs of young children from 3 months of age until kindergarten eligibility. Our location on-site at GAO headquarters enables parents to balance their work and parenting responsibilities. The Center maintains an open door policy to keep parents connected to their children during the workday.

Curriculum

Tiny Findings uses the Creative Curriculum—a play-based curriculum—which is designed to help children develop across all developmental domains. The Creative Curriculum is a research-based program that helps teachers meet individual student needs within a group setting, and scaffolds children's learning as they reach individual developmental goals at their own pace. The Creative Curriculum prepares children to be successful in school and beyond because the routines, relationships, and experiences of the early childhood years build the foundation for later success.

Tiny Findings admits children without regard to race, sex, color, creed, religion, or national origin. The Center will seek to accommodate children with special needs when reasonable accommodation can be made. Tiny Findings' policies and procedures exist to ensure a safe, secure, and nurturing learning environment for your child.

Outdoor Play

Tiny Findings' outdoor space supports physical games and sports as well as learning on a year round basis. The playground is essentially an outdoor classroom. Outdoor materials and activities are designed to meet developmental needs, and encourage problem-solving and independent exploration. There are opportunities for dramatic play, art, sensory play, and construction and enhancement of physical activities.

The daily schedule includes at least two outdoor periods, except during inclement weather and in very cold or very hot temperatures, as discussed below. (State licensing requires that we include outdoor time each day when weather permits.) Children who are well enough to attend our center must be well enough to participate in all activities, including outdoor play. GAO provides a security officer whenever children are on the playground.

Tiny Findings follows the Child Care Weather watch which is provided by the National Weather Center:

- For Cold Weather: Children will not go outside if the temperature is below 32 degrees Fahrenheit. During cold weather days, we ask that children are sent prepared to enjoy a cold day. Please send gloves, hats, warm coats, and boots for your child/children to participate in outdoor play.
- For Hot Weather: Children will not go outside if the temperature is higher than 92 degrees Fahrenheit, and this also includes the humidity factor. Please dress children in light weight cotton fabric clothing during warmer months. Be sure to send sunscreen for your child/children during the warmer months.

Community Visits and Field Trips

Tiny Findings' proximity to cultural and community institutions allows us to make visits to nearby places to support our educational programming. Our "walking trips" to nearby places will be shared on calendars, classroom white boards, and the destination sheet at the front desk, and will typically occur between 10 a.m. and noon. Walking trips will be within one mile of the Center.

Even if child to staff ratios would not require it, it is essential to have at least two adults present at all times including when the children are away from the building (large groups will maintain staff-child ratios).

For further visits, using Metro or other modes of transportation, a signed permission slip for each field trip is required. All trips will be approved in advance by the Executive Director. Staff may not drive children in their private cars. Staff will take emergency medical release forms with them on all field trips, as well as a cell phone to be contacted by the Center in case of emergency.

Culturally Responsive Care

Tiny Findings strives to provide culturally responsive care that is based on the real life experiences and the customs, languages, values, food, and lifestyles that are shared among the families in the Center. Reflection of diversity becomes an integral part of the curriculum, celebrating the uniqueness of each child and family.

Our system of primary care-giving allows each teacher to take the time to listen and engage in ongoing conversations with parents/guardians about child rearing and family practices. Learning about each family's practices is an important part of enrollment and orientation procedures. Teachers talk to parents/guardians about home practices, particular cultural values, issues surrounding authority figures, and other expectations regarding behavior.

In the spirit of diversity, Tiny Findings employs a diverse staff of individuals who are committed to learning about cultural diversity. We offer training opportunities to support a culturally responsive program that builds on ongoing dialogue about the deep structure of culture.

Progressive Guidance Policy

Tiny Findings believes in positive guidance, as opposed to punitive discipline. Positive guidance techniques help us avoid most challenging behaviors, by keeping the children engaged in developmentally appropriate activities.

Our philosophy involves creating a supportive, cooperative atmosphere that encourages self-control, and positive self-esteem. Positive guidance is based on our belief in each child's ability to grow and learn.

As caregivers, we need to ensure that each child feels loved and secure, while helping build their social skills and desire to get along well with others. We are the supporters, the encouragers and the teachers of children. It is our job as professionals to help children learn appropriate behaviors by assisting and guiding in their implementation.

- We use positive reinforcement to encourage positive behaviors.
- We use redirection, discussion and communication to provide options for our children.
- We do not embarrass our children.

- We do not label children or express judgment.
- We will work hard to build a trusting, caring relationship with our children that will increase their desire to meet our expectations.

Parents/Guardians are also required to observe these guidelines for positive guidance and the prohibitions for punishment while on Center premises or when accompanying any Center-organized outing.

The end goal of positive guidance and discipline is to help children become responsible for their own behavior. At no time is physical punishment or punishment related to food, bathrooms, or naps tolerated. It is the Center's policy that screaming, yelling, or any use of corporal punishment is not permitted.

Sometimes a child's behavior is such that more formal intervention is required. If a child engages in persistent or repetitive inappropriate behavior or behavior destructive to the health and safety of himself or others, we will use the following Progressive Guidance procedures:

We will observe and record the child's behavior patterns and our responses.

Parents/Guardian will be asked to participate in a parent/guardian teacher conference to develop a specific action to address the behavior. The plan will outline all steps the staff and parent/guardian will take to help the child develop new behavior patterns.

The Executive Director may request and work with outside resources to incorporate recommendations of outside consultants into the plan with parental agreement. If special resources are used the parent/guardian may request a conference. Resources include, but are not limited to, child psychologists, play therapists, and occupational therapists.

If a child's behavior is such that she/he consistently displays hostile or aggressive behavior that injures other children, the Center Director will meet with the parent(s) to discuss the situation. In all cases, the Center reserves the right to ask the parents to remove the child from the Center.

Licensing

Tiny Findings is licensed by the District of Columbia Office of the State Superintendent of Education and meets the requirements set forth in the District of Columbia Municipal Regulations (DCMR 29). We believe that licensing and rigid enforcement of standards is in the best interest of all children and, as such, our center will comply with all applicable licensing regulations. These standards apply to our facility, staff, health and safety procedures, nutrition, teacher/child ratios, and record keeping. Tiny Findings is subject to inspection by state and city health, fire and licensing officials. These entities review our program in terms of children's health records, facility's health and safety guidelines and practices.

The Center's license is displayed in the lobby, and a copy of the licensing regulations is on file in the Center's office.

Health Examination and Immunization Requirements

Each child must have a current DC Health Certificate on file. Copies are available on the Department of Health website or from the Operations Specialist. This form must be updated annually (at a minimum), and each time a child receives a mandated immunization or test.

To meet licensing requirements for operating a center in the District, Tiny Findings must report health examination and immunization information to the Department of Health. By attending school in DC, you are agreeing to follow the health exam, test, and immunization schedule of the District. Please note that your personal physician may follow a different schedule; therefore, it is your responsibility to provide documentation of your expected immunization schedule to Tiny Findings, which may or may not be accepted by the Department of Health.

While the Operations Specialist makes every attempt to remind families of their requirements, it is each family's responsibility to meet the schedule and documentation requirements. Our records are audited annually, at a minimum, by the Department of Health, and failure to abide by regulations jeopardizes our license to operate. Children who do not meet the exam, testing and immunization requirements of DC will not be allowed to attend Tiny Findings until all requirements are met.

Guidelines / Reminders for Health Certificates:

At each "well child" visit, the "date of health exam" in the top left area of the health form needs to be updated, and the date at the bottom of the form needs to be updated.

Updated information on immunizations received shall be obtained each time the child is immunized.

Each child needs a TB and lead test between 9 and 12 months.

According to DC law, between the ages of 6 months and 14 months of age, and again between the ages of 22 and 26 months of age, each child must get lead screening done.

By the third birthday, and annually thereafter, each child must visit a dentist. The dentist should document this visit through the DC government dental form available on the Department of Health website or from the Operations Specialist.

Center Staffing

Tiny Findings follows the requirements and recommendations set forth by the District of Columbia (D.C.) Office of the State Superintendent for Education (OSSE), and seeks to meet the more stringent recommendations set forth by the National Association for the Education of Young Children (NAEYC).

Tiny Findings strives to exceed the D.C. licensing requirements and as well as the recommendations set forth by NAEYC. At a minimum the Center maintains the following ratios:

	Infants	Toddlers	Twos	Threes	Fours
D.C. Regulations	1:4	1:4	1:4 (younger) 1:8 (older)	1:8	1:10
NAEYC guidelines	1:3 (group of 9) 1:4 (group of 12)	1:4	1:5 (group of 10) 1:6 (group of 12)	1:6 (group of 12) 1:7 (group of 14) 1:8 (group of 16)	1:8 (group of 16) 1:10 (group of 20)
Tiny Findings Staffing	1:3	1:3	1:4 (younger) 1:6 (older)*	1:6	1:8

*Tiny Findings maintains a ratio of 1:4 in the Twos room until all children in the Twos room reach 30 months of age, at which point Tiny Findings ratios may be reduced to 1:6, consistent with NAEYC guidelines.

 Tiny Findings strives to maintain these ratios on a daily basis. At times, however, it may be necessary for the Center to alter ratios in certain classrooms, consistent with D.C. regulatory requirements, to accommodate staffing needs. At all times, classroom ratios will at least meet the minimum ratios set forth in D.C. regulations; frequently, the ratios in certain classrooms exceed Tiny Findings' minimum staffing ratios.

Professional Development

Tiny Findings is committed to hiring qualified educators. All Coordinators hold at least a Bachelor's degree. Consistent with NAEYC criteria, Tiny Findings is working to achieve the goal of ensuring that at least 75 percent of our Lead Teachers have a minimum of a Bachelor's degree or equivalent by 2020. Tiny Findings sustains a high level of energy and commitment among its faculty through ongoing development training. Such in-service professional development bridges early childhood theory and practice and encourages self-motivation and ownership for professional growth. Each staff member participates in an orientation that covers areas including health and safety, child abuse identification, evacuation procedures, nutrition, family relations, program approaches, and child guidance. Teachers also observe and mentor under a more experienced teacher. Professional development plans are coordinated with the Director to meet the needs of individual programs and faculty members.

Insurance

The Center maintains a number of insurance policies to address accidents and medical incidents at the Center. Please contact the Executive Director for more information or to file a claim form.

Admissions and Enrollment

This admissions process has been established to accommodate the demand for early care and education at Tiny Findings Child Development Center (Tiny Findings). Because the demand for enrollment may exceed current availability, not all applicants may be able to enroll. To ensure transparency and equity in the admissions process, Tiny Findings established this weighted drawing policy for determining selection of new enrollees, class placement, and transitions between classrooms.

Program Eligibility

To be eligible for attendance, children must be at least 3 months of age and not yet required to attend Kindergarten in their home jurisdiction.

Application

Applications are available in the Center or on the web at www.tinyfindings.org. Completed applications must be returned with the necessary application fee, payable to Tiny Findings. The application fee is nonrefundable. Incomplete applications will not be accepted.

Acceptance and Enrollment

Children may be accepted for admission prior to meeting the age requirement (3 months) for attendance or before the parent is ready for the child to start their admission. If a parent wants to hold the slot until the child is age-eligible or ready to start, the parent must pay the appropriate tuition fees from the date of acceptance. Date of acceptance, in this case, is the date that the child would have been enrolled if eligible or ready to start.

Upon acceptance into the program, a non-refundable enrollment fee for each new child will be due to secure the spot. Upon re-enrollment, a non-refundable re-enrollment fee for each currently enrolled child will be due to retain a spot. The amounts of these fees are determined annually.

The tuition for the first two weeks is due before the child begins. Checks should be made payable to Tiny Findings. All non-GAO HQ parents / guardians will be subject to a security check to allow access to the building.

Process

Applications are accepted on a rolling basis for the annual weighted drawing process (the drawing). Once a year in April (twice a year for infants, April and October), Tiny Findings conducts the drawing for the spots that will become available at the beginning of the following academic year, which begins the day after Labor Day in September.¹

Tiny Findings enrolls through an annual weighted drawing process. Families must have (or be expecting) a child in order to apply for admission.

Any child born between October 1st and January 31st is eligible for the Fall Lottery/Spring Enrollment.

- Enrollment for those offered a spot through the Fall Lottery begins the first week in January, provided the child is at least 3 months of age. Families with children who are at least 3 months of age have the option of enrolling their child at any time before February 26, 20178.
- If the child is not enrolled by February 26, 2018, parents will begin to pay tuition to hold the spot, even if the child is not yet 3 months of age.
 - Any child born in this time frame can defer to the Spring lottery for Fall admission because they would not be eligible to transition until the following fall.

Any child born between February 1st and September 30th is eligible for the Spring Lottery/Fall Enrollment.

- Enrollment for those offered a spot through the Spring Lottery begins the first day of the academic year, provided the child is at least 3 months of age. Families with children who are at least 3 months of age have the option of enrolling their child at any time before October 10, 2017.

¹Families of infants will work with Center management to establish an appropriate start date.

- If the child is not enrolled by October 10, 2017, parents will begin to pay tuition to hold the spot, even if the child is not yet 3 months of age.

This drawing is administered according to the following process:

1. Currently enrolled families will be requested to re-enroll their child(ren), typically in April, for the following academic year so that Tiny Findings management can predict the following academic year's enrollment.
2. Tiny Findings management will then publicize to the GAO / USACE / EOUST communities the number of predicted open spots that will be available for the following academic year. Tiny Findings will publicize the application deadline (typically in early April), and families who are interested in enrolling their children will be given an opportunity to submit an application and corresponding application fee.
3. Tiny Findings management will divide all submitted applications into groups by the age the child will be on September 30 of the coming academic year (Infants, 3-12 mos.; Toddlers, 12-24 mos.; Twos, 24-36 mos.; Threes, 36-48 mos.; or Fours [PreK], 48-60 mos). Children will be placed into one of these groups based upon their birthdates. This process occurs to make sure that classes are comprised of children who are close in age who can then transition predictably between classrooms in cohorts. The Executive Director has the discretion to place a child who is up to two months younger than the applicable age requirement for a classroom (i.e., the child has a birthday between October 1st and November 30th) in the next oldest classroom, unless such placement would necessitate hiring additional teaching staff. Such placement is allowed only in the Twos, Threes, and Fours classroom, and only applies if (1) the agreement of the child's parents is obtained and (2) the opportunity for an older class placement is first made to any older child who is also within two months of the applicable age requirement for the next oldest classroom and who the Executive Director determines is developmentally ready to be placed in an older classroom. For example, if Child A turns 3 years old on November 1 and is age-eligible for enrollment in the Twos class because he was 2 years old as of the September 30th cutoff, the Executive Director may, in consultation with the family, assign Child A to the Threes class. If Child B was born on October 15th, however, the Executive Director must first give Child B's parents the option to move Child B to the Threes classroom, assuming the Executive Director determines Child B is developmentally ready for such a move, before giving this option to Child A.
4. Parents with children who have "cutoff" September birthdays or other developmental concerns about their child's class placement in September are encouraged to consult with management in mid- to late-March to ensure that each child is placed appropriately within the structure of the program (mostly to guarantee that all children have the opportunity to participate in the Fours [PreK] class prior to attending Kindergarten).

5. Tiny Findings management will then sort all submitted applications for enrollment into their respective priority status categories (see below).
6. Tiny Findings management, observed by representatives from the Board of Directors, will draw the applications for the identified number of spots (by priority status and age group) and will notify these families. Families must accept the spot within one week of it being offered, or another applicant will be drawn and offered the spot.

Priority for Enrollment Categories²

In recognition of the significant material contribution that GAO provides to Tiny Findings, employees of GAO and GAO headquarters tenants with a clause regarding Tiny Findings enrollment in their leases are given priority enrollment.³ Priority categories are as listed below, and based upon the employer of the child's parent or legal guardian:

1. Sibling of any student already enrolled in the Center. If space in the center cannot accommodate all siblings, the following order of priority shall be given: GAO employees and other tenants (as noted earlier), Legislative Branch employees, other federal employees, other families with a child already enrolled in the Center
2. Children of GAO and other building tenants (as noted earlier)
3. Children of employees of the Legislative Branch
4. Children of other federal employees
5. Children of the general public

Note: If a family's priority status changes between the time of the drawing and the start of the academic year, the previously offered spot in Tiny Findings will no longer be valid and will be withdrawn.

Explanation of Sibling Priority Status

The sibling priority status helps provide continuity of care for families and is applied when two or more siblings are eligible to simultaneously receive care at Tiny Findings

²Please note that the Tiny Findings Board of Directors also maintains the right to hold up to three slots for children of Tiny Findings employees as a tool for recruitment or retention.

³If, at any time, the number of children of employees of GAO headquarter building tenants exceeds 20 percent of the total capacity of the Center, then such children shall be eligible for enrollment on a priority basis immediately behind the children of GAO employees.

for a minimum of 3 months. Accordingly, if a family has sibling priority at the time of the selection, but withdraws the already-enrolled sibling out of Tiny Findings before the younger sibling has been enrolled for 3 months, the previously offered spot in Tiny Findings is no longer valid and will be withdrawn. If the younger sibling has been enrolled for less than 3 months the younger sibling's application is moved to the appropriate priority level (see above) and a new drawing will be held for the younger sibling's old spot. While there is a possibility that the younger sibling's application will be drawn again the Center cannot guarantee that this will happen. If the younger sibling's application is not re-drawn, the family will receive 30 day notice that they have lost their spot.

Allocation of Infant Spots

Each academic year, Tiny Findings will have 12 infant spots available for Fall enrollment and 6 infant spots available for Spring enrollment. There will be 24 total infant spots, but only 18 of those infants will be old enough to transition to the Toddlers each Fall.

- Infants eligible for Fall enrollment will be 3-12 months at the time of entry, and at least 12 months old the following September 30.
- Infants eligible for the Spring enrollment will be at least 3 months at the time of entry, and no more than 12 months old the following September 30. The Spring cohort of infants will remain in the infant class for the entire following academic year. Families work with Center management to determine a mutually-beneficial start date for their infants.

Enrollment Procedures

- Families are e-mailed offer letters.
- Families accept or decline offers within 1 week.
- Families who accept should plan to attend a new parent orientation meeting, a play date (Toddlers and older), and an individual intake meeting (Infants).
- Infant families are encouraged to spend an entire day in the classroom or to visit as often as you'd like prior to your official start date to become comfortable with the teachers and environment.
- Families that accept a spot need to fill out a tuition tracking form for each child starting at the Center and provide it to the Executive Director.

Mid-Year Openings

While mid-year openings do not occur regularly, at times, families will leave the Center due to a range of circumstances. If these spots become open, Tiny Findings management, observed by a member of the Board of Directors, will pull an application from those applications submitted to the original academic-year drawing for the relevant age group (by priority status). When openings occur and there are no remaining applications for these openings, Tiny Findings reserves the right to offer the space on a first-come, first-served basis, regardless of priority status. However, Tiny Findings will first advertise the available space to employees at GAO HQ

Other Family Situations

While the admissions policy accommodates many family situations, it cannot accommodate all potential scenarios, such as the birth of multiples or the uncertainties associated with adoptions. Should a family feel as though their particular situation is not accommodated by the weighted drawing process, they should contact Center management prior to the drawing.

Enrollment of Children with Special Needs

Tiny Findings' goal is to meet the individual needs of the child within the structure of our program, while maintaining a healthy and safe environment for all our children and staff. Tiny Findings seeks to accommodate children with special needs, where reasonable accommodation can be made. The Executive Director, in consultation with the Board, will make an individualized assessment as to whether the facility can meet the particular needs of a child without fundamentally altering the care the Center provides to other children. In some cases, acceptance of a child with special needs will require the parents to pay a fee higher than the standard fees. The higher fee will be used to cover additional expenses incurred to provide adequate care.

Prior to enrollment of a child with special needs, our staff will gather information from the child's parents/guardians regarding the child's physical, social, emotional, and cognitive abilities in order to assess our ability to meet the child's needs. With the parents'/guardians' permission, we will collaborate with community resources if available; to ensure we are meeting the child's needs in every possible way.

Goals for individual children are best developed in collaboration with family members. General goals may include:

- Promoting the child's engagement in all aspects of the program.
- Supporting families in defining and achieving their goals.
- Encouraging the child's development and mastery in all domains (physical, social, emotional and cognitive).
- Building and supporting the child's social competence.
- Preventing the emergence of secondary behavioral problems related to communication difficulties.

Policy for Holding Slots for New and Currently Enrolled Children

Parents who wish to remove currently enrolled children from Tiny Findings for an extended leave of absence of up to four months and hold the child's spot at the Center shall submit a request in writing or via e-mail to the Executive Director containing the reason and time period for the absence. Parents shall make every effort to submit requests as far in advance as possible. The Executive Director and the Board's Executive Committee will consider each request on a case-by-case basis taking into account the needs of the Center. Special consideration will be given to those requests that would be eligible for coverage under Title I of the Family and Medical Leave Act e.g., the birth of a child, the placement with the parent(s) of a child for adoption or foster care, to care for a spouse or immediate family member (child or parent) with a serious health condition, or because of the parent's own serious health condition that makes the parent unable to continue to work. Approval of requests may be predicated upon, among other factors, continued payment of tuition at either the full or a reduced rate at the discretion of the Executive Director and the Board of Directors.

Withdrawal

Tiny Findings requires families to provide 30 days written notice of withdrawal to the Executive Director. If a family withdraws with less than 30 day notice, their official withdrawal date will be effective 30 days after submitting the withdrawal notice. Families must pay tuition for the full 30 days after the withdrawal notice, regardless of whether their child is enrolled in the Center.

Families with Security Deposits

Families of children who began attending Tiny Findings prior to September 1, 2013 may be eligible for a deposit refund upon withdrawal if they provide at least a 30-day notice prior to withdrawal. Families of children who indicated a fall return at the time of last re-enrollment, but subsequently withdraw prior to the next calendar year are ineligible for a refund of their tuition deposit. For example, a family that re-enrolled their child in April 2017, and withdraws that child prior to January 1, 2018 is ineligible for a refund.

Drop-In Policy

From time to time, Tiny Findings may have space available in our preschool classrooms for drop-ins. The drop-in program is administered based on absentee rates at the Center on any given day. Previous children of Tiny Findings ages 2-5 are eligible.

Only children who previously attended Tiny Findings and are between the ages of 2-5 are eligible for the drop-in program. There is no drop-in program for infants and toddlers. All enrollment forms must be completed. A current medical history form must be on file in the Center (including an updated health certificate).

Parents must ask the Executive Director as early as possible to request drop-in services. Notification of available space may occur as late as 9:15 a.m. of the drop in day. The Executive Director has the right to refuse drop-in requests in order to maintain the quality of the program.

Summer Enrollment Policy

The summer program is administered based on current enrollment availability in the Threes and Fours classrooms. Children of employees in the GAO HQ building who are ages 4 – 5 (as of September 30 of current year) are eligible. Applications will be accommodated on a first come, first served basis. Children who are alumni of Tiny Findings full year program may apply beginning February 1st for the upcoming summer; children who are not alumni of Tiny Findings may apply beginning March 15th. Non-alumni children are required to enroll for at least 4 weeks, unless the Executive Director determines that enrolling a child for a shorter period of time would not result in the denial of summer enrollment to another child interested in enrolling for a longer period of time. All children who enroll in the summer program after April 30th will pay an additional $50 each tuition cycle.

To enroll, the following forms must be completed:

1. Tiny Finding summer enrollment form and re-enrollment fee of $50.
2. Current medical history form (including an updated health certificate).
3. Signed Parent Manual Agreement (if one is not currently on file).

Summer enrollment tuition is based on the child's classroom placement. Children can enroll for the duration of the summer term (June 19 – August 18, 2018) or on a biweekly basis. Children who enroll for a period of less than 10 consecutive school days will be charged the drop-in rate (as noted above, non-alumni children must enroll for at least 4 weeks). In addition, families are required to pay a re-enrollment fee of $50, which will be due on the date indicated on the family's Offer of Summer Admission letter.

Tuition for summer enrollment must be paid by check according to the payment schedule set forth in the summer enrollment offer letter. Tiny Findings' Overdue Tuition policy applies to late payments.

The 2018 summer term runs from June 19, 2018 through August 18, 2018. Tiny Findings is closed for in-service the week of August 21st. Tiny Findings may be able to accommodate summer enrollment the week of August 28th and will consider applications for enrollment during these weeks on a case-by-case basis.

Tuition and Fees

Tuition is due bi-weekly. Tuition will be paid on a year-round basis, regardless of vacations, holidays, and closings, for as long as a child is enrolled in the Center. Tuition fees are based on the child's classroom placement and are not pro-rated. Children who attend during any part of a tuition cycle will be charged for a full tuition payment.

Bi-Weekly Tuition 2017-2018 (Families not employed @ 441 G St add $50 per payment)

- Infants: $850
- Toddlers: $850
- Twos: $755
- Threes: $660
- Fours (PreK): $660

^aWithdrawal of this payment will occur on Nov. 22nd due to the Thanksgiving holiday on Nov. 23rd.

The Board of Directors determines the annual tuition rates each spring, and new rates go into effect at the beginning of each academic year. To obtain a copy of the current tuition and fee structure for the Center please submit a request to the Center Executive Director. Additionally, questions about tuition should be directed to the Executive Director.

The Center policy is that all parents must pay tuition through an ACH debit from their savings or checking account. If you need assistance with this process, please contact the Executive Director or the Treasurer.

Tuition Assistance

Tiny Findings sponsors a tuition assistance program for eligible children. The Center allocates assistance payments on a sliding scale, depending on the applicant's gross income. The number of scholarships depends on the availability of funds. In the event of financial need, a parent may apply for tuition assistance by completing the appropriate forms, which can be obtained from the Executive Director.

Summary of Fees

Fee	Amount	Frequency
Application Fee	$125	One time
Re-Application Fee	$25	One time
Enrollment Fee	$900*	One-time
Re-enrollment Fee	$250	Annually
Late Payment Fee	$20	Weekly
Volunteer hour fee	$25	Annually
Insufficient Funds/Bounced Payment fee	$20	Per instance
Late pick up Fee	$25	Per 15 minutes after operating hours, per child
Drop-In Fee	$100	One time

*Note: The enrollment fee will drop down to $250 for new children enrolling after January 2018.

Late Pick-up Charges

Parents who do not pick up their child and depart from the Center by 6 p.m. closing time will incur late pick-up charges at the rate of $25.00 for every fifteen minutes or portion thereof, based on the clock in the Center reception area with the $25 cost being incurred at the first minute of each 15 minute period (e.g., if you pick up your child 16 minutes late you owe $50 dollars). It is helpful to arrive at the Center at least 10 minutes before 6 p.m. to allow enough time to leave the Center by closing. Late pick-up charges are due by the next school day with payment made by a check to Tiny Findings. Parents who fail to pay late fees on a timely basis will be subject to Tiny Findings' overdue tuition charges. Consistent lateness may be grounds for removal of a child from the program.

Overdue Tuition

Parents are expected to ensure that there are adequate funds available to cover the cost of tuition in their designated checking or savings account from which Tiny Findings is authorized to draw tuition. Tuition will be considered overdue after a grace period extending until the close of business the Tuesday following the tuition date. After that time, parents are required to pay outstanding balances within 48 hours of being notified by the Center that a payment has not been received. After the 48 hour grace period the family will incur a late charge of $20 per child for each week that the account balance remains unpaid. If tuition and all late charges are not paid in full by the next tuition date—within 2 weeks—the child will not be allowed to attend the Center until such payment is made. In cases where the Executive Director feels that circumstances warrant, the Executive Director may determine that the child will not be allowed to attend the Center after only one week past the tuition date.

The child's space at the Center will be held for 4 weeks from the date of the original missed tuition payment; tuition will continue to accrue during this period. If tuition and late charges are not paid in full within these 4 weeks, the Executive Director will fill the space according to Center procedures. The family would be allowed to re-enroll the child after the 4-week deadline, assuming all past-due tuition payments and late charges were paid. However, the family must follow the normal admission application procedures, and the child's acceptance back into the Center would be dependent upon the status of the Center's space availability, and may be subject to specific payment arrangements. In the case of overdue tuition, these procedures supersede Tiny Findings' normal enrollment policies.

In special circumstances the Executive Director can initiate a process to negotiate a repayment plan for families with overdue tuition. Should the Executive Director determine that special arrangements are warranted, the Executive Director must brief the Board of Directors on the specifics of the family's situation and present the board with a plan to collect overdue tuition payments. The Board must then vote to approve or reject the repayment plan. If the plan is approved, the family must sign a contract with the Center agreeing to the details of the repayment plan.

Insufficient Funds/Bounced Payment

A $20 fee is charged for each instance of insufficient funds or bounced payment.

Volunteer Commitment

Like most non-profit organizations, Tiny Findings could not operate without volunteers. Your volunteer hours also contribute to our efforts to watch the bottom line. For example, volunteering for nap watch helps the Center avoid the overtime costs that it would incur if staff meetings were held after the Center closed. Similarly, the money the Center raises through the volunteer-run fundraisers contributes directly to the Center's revenues. Families are required to volunteer a minimum of 18 hours per academic year. The requirement is for each family, regardless of the number of children enrolled in Tiny Findings. Families are responsible for keeping track of their volunteer hours and submitting them to the Executive Director at the end of each academic year. Examples of volunteering include (but are not limited to):

- “Nap-watching” (providing supervision during nap times to cover staff meetings)
- fundraising,
- volunteering in the classroom,
- assisting the Board or Leadership with special projects,
- chaperoning a field trip,
- donating requested materials and supplies,
- serving as a classroom parent or as a Tiny Findings Parents Association officer, or
- serving on the Board of Directors.

Opportunities will be announced throughout the year in the Center and Tiny Findings Parents Association newsletters or through center management's Wednesday notices. Please refer to the Tiny Findings Parents Associate volunteer tracking spreadsheet for additional details regarding activities that count toward Tiny Findings' volunteer requirement.

In general, one hour of donated time=one volunteer hour. For donations of materials and supplies, each $25 of materials=one volunteer hour.

Families that do not fulfill their volunteer hour obligation will be assessed a fee for each hour or portion thereof not worked at a rate of $25 per hour. Such payments will be withdrawn via ACH debit. Applicable late fees and insufficient fund fees apply.

TINY FINDINGS

Operating Policies and Procedures

Center Availability

Tiny Findings typically operates Monday through Friday from 7:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. Families may enter the Center to drop-off at 7 a.m., and should arrive for pick-up no later than 5:45 p.m. Families who leave the Center after 6 p.m. will incur late pick-up charges. The Center follows the federal calendar and has additional closings for in-service and holidays each year. Our operating calendar is approved by the Board of Directors each summer and shared with families at the beginning of the academic year.

If the federal government is CLOSED, Tiny Findings will be CLOSED.

If the federal government is OPEN operating on UNSCHEDULED LEAVE, DELAYED OPENING, or similar status, Tiny Findings may operate on a limited schedule (late opening / early closing).

Tiny Findings will also close if, at any time, the Center is unable to comply with D.C. licensing requirements (for example, if the number of staff able to commute during inclement weather does not permit us to provide adequate care for the children).

Updates to our operating status will be announced via SchoolMessenger, a school notification service through which families will receive Tiny Findings operating status alerts, including the Center's status during emergency situations and reminders about early closures for in-service and holidays, via their preferred communication method -- voice, email, and/or text message. Please make sure to complete the form for School Messenger and update the contact information as needed.

Personal Articles

Parents are responsible for supplying all diapers, wipes, and diaper creams. Parents of children in diapers are required to keep at least three changes of clothing at the Center. Older children should have at least one. Infants need two porta-crib sized sheets and two blankets. Toddlers and older children should have a small blanket and two standard-sized crib sheets for use at naptime. Please refer to the list on pages 33-35 of this handbook for other recommended items to bring from home. All blankets, extra clothing, and outerwear should be plainly marked with your child's name. Children may not bring toys, money, food, candy, or gum from home, except for a special toy or blanket needed by the child to feel secure.

Clothing

Children should come dressed for action! We recommend washable, comfortable play clothes that are easy for the child to manage. Tennis shoes or other soft-soled shoes are the safest, whereas sandals or hard-heeled boots can lead to injured toes. Open toe shoes are not allowed. In “boot weather,” we encourage families to provide a pair of tennis or other soft-soled shoes for inside play.

Food and Food Service

Tiny Findings is a “nut free” center. We serve nutritious morning and afternoon snack in addition to catered lunch. Families may choose from regular or vegetarian meal options. Outside food is not allowed for safety reasons as we are providing group care, unless a child has dietary restrictions requiring alternate foods. Parents should not bring meals or snacks that contain nuts or nut products. This includes items for birthday parties, field trips, and lunches brought from home.

Tiny Findings is committed to providing students with healthy and nutritious food and consequently at no time, other than during a child’s birthday celebration or special classroom celebrations or cooking activities, will center staff serve students junk food as part of their meals or snacks. Lunch and snack times will be used as educational opportunities and social occasions. Learning about different foods and enjoying the company of peers will be daily goals. Children will be served a morning snack, a balanced lunch, and an afternoon snack each day. Trickle Springs Farm Friend milk is served in each classroom. Menus are posted on the parents’ bulletin board. For children unable to eat the regular food served due to health reasons, a note from a doctor or a dietician stating “child is on a special diet due to health reasons” required. In that case, parents are expected to supply food and beverages.

If your child has any food allergies, intolerances, or dietary restrictions you must inform the Executive Director in writing. For the health and safety of your child, this information will be posted in the Center’s kitchen and the classrooms for everyone’s awareness.

Parents may choose to pick up their child and take him/her out to lunch or to join their child for lunch in the classroom. Please coordinate these visits with your child’s teacher. Please do not leave any food items in your child’s cubby. Please label any item and leave it in the kitchen.

Celebrations/Birthday Party

Birthdays and seasonal or cultural holidays are recognized at the Center. Please consult with the teachers about your contribution for the celebration. A special treat such as a cake, fresh fruit, muffins, cupcakes, or cookies is permissible. Snacks should be nut free and all food brought to the Center by parents must be store bought and secured in its original packaging.

If there are two or more birthdays in a month in the same classroom, Tiny Findings encourages parents to coordinate a single birthday celebration. Please discuss celebration plans with the classroom teacher before your child's birthday. Balloons are not permitted in the Center.

Student Attendance

Sign-In/Out Procedures

Parents/Guardians are required to sign their child in and out using the book located at the front desk. If you take your child out of the Center during the day and return him/her to the Center, you must sign your child in and out on the Lunch in/out form in the same folder. We keep daily attendance records and it is important that we know which children are in the Center at all times. In the event of an emergency evacuation, this documentation is critical to ensure that all children are accounted for.

Drop Off

Families are expected to drop off their children in a condition that will enable them to immediately join the classroom. Parents should ensure that children still wearing diapers are wearing a fresh diaper and that potty trained children go to the bathroom before dropping them off at the Center for the morning.

These provide smooth transitions and allow you a brief exchange with the teacher to convey information and learn about the day's plans.

Pick-up

Children must be picked up by an adult who has been previously authorized by the family to take their child(ren) from the Center (under no circumstances will the Center deliver a child to an adult at the Security desk). The Center will under no circumstances allow a child to leave with any other individual in the absence of an email or signed, written note from the parents having been provided to the Center prior to the child's departure. Anyone newly authorized by the parent to pick up the child will be subject to a photo ID check. Please be advised that the Center cannot refuse to release a child to the child's parent or legal guardian who has or shares legal custody of the child, who presents apparently reliable evidence of such right, and who presents photographic identification.

Illnesses

Tiny Findings follows the DC Office of State Superintendent of Education regulations and the guidelines for communicable illness in group settings issued by the American Academy of Pediatrics. These guidelines are available in the office and on the parent communication boards in the Center. Children who exhibit signs of illness and are unable to participate in the program will be excluded from attendance in order for Tiny Findings to continue to provide high-quality services to other the children, families, and staff. Common symptoms requiring exclusion include but are not limited to:

- fever of 100 degrees or higher in children over 4 months of age
- vomiting (2 or more episodes in the previous 24 hours)
- diarrhea (2 or more loose watery stools)
- uncontrolled coughing, wheezing, difficulty breathing
- symptoms of conjunctivitis (pinkeye)
- symptoms of contagious skin condition or body rash that is not identifiable
- significant fatigue, irritability, crying
- a contagious bacterial illness until the child has been on antibiotics for 24 –48 hours

Head Lice: If we detect nits or lice, you will be required to pick up your child. The child may return after he/she has been treated with a medicated shampoo and ALL THE NITS ARE GONE.

Upon notification, an authorized individual must pick up the child within one hour, and the child must stay excluded for at least the next following school day. The excluded child may return when the signs and symptoms requiring exclusion have been resolved according to established medical guidelines. In many cases, an illness report that is filled out by your child's teacher contains the information and the steps to follow. In some cases, Tiny Findings may require a doctor's note for re-admission to the Center.

Parents must notify Center Management when a child is diagnosed as having a communicable disease or infection, such as strep throat or conjunctivitis. Parents will be notified if their child may have been exposed to a communicable illness or disease. Please keep in mind that illnesses—such as runny noses, sore throats, and ear infections—are common among children. In many cases, children with these illnesses have already exposed others before showing symptoms. Children exhibiting mild symptoms of such illnesses are allowed to stay at the Center as long as in the judgment of their teacher and the Executive Director they are able to participate in regular activities and the ability of the staff to care for the other children is not affected. Illness policies will be firmly enforced.

If parents determine that their child is not able to attend either because of illness or because of a planned absence from the Center please call the Center.

Medication and Injuries

Tiny Findings' staff can give a child medicine only in the following instances:

1. Parents provide staff with prescription medication in the original prescription bottle with pharmacist's label and provided the Center with a form authorizing the staff members to give the medication.
2. Parents provide staff with written authorization from a physician giving permission to administer non-prescription medication (e.g., cough and cold medicines). The authorization for administering medication will not exceed ten working days unless otherwise indicated by the physician. Non-prescription medication must be given to staff in the original bottle.
3. Aspirin will not be given at any time because of the dangers of Reye's syndrome.
4. Acetaminophen (Tylenol) will only be given for symptoms resulting from inoculations, with a doctor's note and parent-signed form. At no time will these medications be given for symptoms of a cold or other illness.
5. The administration of medication will always be witnessed by another staff member and recorded by our staff on the medication log. We cannot administer any medication that has expired. We will refrigerate, in a locked container, those medications that require it.
6. We recommend that you ask your child's physician to prescribe a 12-hour dose of medications when appropriate. This allows you to control the administration of medication at all times. The classroom teacher or the director will administer medication.

Please do NOT leave any medication in the classroom. All medicines should be handed to the teachers. It is the parent's responsibility to provide the necessary applicators (e.g., medicine spoons, droppers, etc.) for all medicines.

Medication for Allergies or Chronic Illness

If your child requires medication for life-threatening conditions such as allergies, bee stings, etc., the prescriptions can be kept at the Center and administered when necessary for as long as the child is enrolled. The child's parent/guardian and physician must sign an authorization form. Expired medication will be returned to the parent.

Allergies

Parents/Guardians must keep the Center informed of all current allergies (food, medicines, environmental) and any changes over the course of time enrolled at the Center.

Injury Procedures

If in the opinion of the staff on site at the time, a child's injury may warrant emergency treatment, staff will dial 9-1-1 and request emergency medical assistance. Parents will then be notified.

For less serious injuries, parents will be notified by phone call or by note at the end of the day depending upon the degree of injury. Although every effort will be made to keep the children safe, children are most likely to accumulate some bumps, bruises and scratches during the early years.

There are at least two staff members on-site at all times who are CPR and First Aid certified.

Toileting and Diapering

Toileting and diapering are handled on an individualized basis. Caregivers are perceptive of each child's body language and verbal cues that signal interest in having a diaper changed. Young toddlers are encouraged to participate and communicate their preferences during diapering as they are guided toward toileting independence. While the teacher's role with the preschool children is more indirect, they continue to help children recognize their own needs to use the toilet and to remember the proper elements of hygiene.

Toilet learning is a very individual process based on a child's physical and psychological readiness. Teachers and parents/guardians will share information about an individual child's readiness for toilet learning and establish a plan that will support consistency, patience and partnership for the child and the adults sharing his or her care.

Parents/Guardians are responsible for supplying disposable diapers and wipes for children who are not yet toilet trained. Reusable or cloth diapers are not allowed.

Communications with Parents

The Executive Director maintains a list of parent e-mail addresses. This list is only shared with those communicating on behalf of Tiny Findings (Management or the Board of Directors) and the Tiny Findings Parents Association.

All parents receive a weekly email newsletter containing relevant information from the Executive Director and the Board of Directors and periodic email communications and notifications via SchoolMessenger, as warranted. Additionally, teachers communicate with parents daily through “My Day” forms, located in the children’s cubbies and through weekly e-mails.

Pertinent information is also often distributed through children's “mailboxes” in the lobby, children’s cubbies, posted in the Center in prominent locations, or sent by email to those parents who have provided email addresses.

Other information may also be available on Tiny Findings' website at <http://www.tinyfindings.org/index.html>.

Parent-Teacher Conferences and Child Assessments

Providing routine feedback for each parent/guardian on the progress of his/her child is an integral part of our program. Parent/Guardian conferences are held on an individual basis, and at any time parents/guardians can request an individual meeting to discuss the program, progress and any concerns.

We view children as members of a group as well as unique individuals. Our educational approach offers insights into all aspects of development, including cognitive development such as cause and effect or classification concepts, cooperative behavior; it also factors in each child’s dispositions about learning and thinking. Children’s thinking and learning are documented in a variety of ways, including written observations, photographs or collections of children’s work. This information is frequently displayed as examples of classroom activities. Children are assessed in the context of meaningful activities and daily routines with familiar materials and playmates. Teachers also develop a Portfolio Assessment that measures ongoing growth and change, rather than comparing children to a pre-set norm. They also collect samples of the individual child’s work to help parents appreciate their child’s unique style of development and expression. In addition, Ages and Stages Questionnaire is used to screen children’s development in various areas including social-emotional growth and well-being.

Annual Corporate Meeting

An annual meeting of the Tiny Findings Corporation is held each November, which is open to all Tiny Findings members. In addition, the Board may hold town hall style meetings on a periodic basis.

How Parents Can Communicate with the Center

Parents should feel free to contact the Center at any time by telephone call to the Tiny Findings main line (202-512-3122) or the applicable classroom telephone, or via email to the applicable leadership team member or classroom email address. Parents wishing to speak with a teacher about their child should request to schedule a mutually convenient time that will ensure the teacher is able to speak confidentially with the parent and also to ensure such conversations do not detract from the teaching staff's ability to adequately supervise and pay attention to other children in the classroom. Parents should be aware that staff are not permitted to communicate with parents using their personal cell phones, including through texting, during ordinary business hours, or at any time about matters related to Tiny Findings. The only exception to this is where such communication is necessary in an emergency. Parents are expected to abide by this policy.

Parents are also welcome to raise concerns or provide suggestions directly to Center leadership. While communication between parents, teachers, and leadership is strongly encouraged, it is important that parents understand that confidentiality may limit the information that teachers and leadership can share regarding other children enrolled in the Center, employee particulars, and certain personnel actions.

Parents can also contact the Board of Directors to discuss concerns about management of the Center, center policies, and the Center's financial health, or to address topics that they feel are inappropriate for Center leadership, keeping in mind the responsibilities that the Board has delegated to Center leadership, as described under "Board of Directors." Again, confidentiality may limit the information that the Board can share with parents.

Changing Needs of Families

We work with parents as partners. In times of hardship, you are encouraged to communicate with us. We will work with you and your child by incorporating activities in cases such as sibling arrival, sleep routine, stress, death in the family etc. We will refer you to experts in needed areas in order to support you at difficult times.

Parent Involvement

Central to the Center's philosophy is the concept that parents and staff work together as a team to provide an optimal setting for the growth and development of our children. Tiny Findings maintains an open door policy and welcomes parent visits at all times. Parents may wish to join their child for lunch or take their child out. It is the responsibility of the parents to sign their children in and out every day including times when the child accompanies a parent out to lunch or to another outing during the day. In addition, Center Management and the Board encourage all parents to share any concerns you may have about the Center with us.

While the Center does benefit from the participation of parents, the open door policy is not intended to allow situations where a parent's actions are disruptive to Center operations. At all times, it is critical that parents respect the professional judgment of Center Management, which the Board of Directors has tasked with ensuring the provision of high-quality care and education to children enrolled in the Center, as well as ensuring adherence to Tiny Findings policies. Should counseling by the Executive Director and/or meetings with the Board of Directors fail to resolve disagreements, the Board of Directors reserves the right to direct the parent to make other child care arrangements.

Transitions from Home to Center

During the first few weeks, parents/guardians are asked to allow extra time for the transition between home and center during drop-off and pick-up times. If their schedule permits, parent(s)/guardian(s) may schedule partial-day visits. During the day, teachers will incorporate routines familiar to the child and keep parents/guardians apprised of the child's adjustment. Children are often reassured by bringing "transitional" objects such as a cuddly toy from home for naptime.

Daily Schedules and Suggested Items to Bring From Home

Infant Schedule

The infant schedule is determined by the needs of the individual child within the group setting. A feeding and sleeping schedule will be designed for each child in consultation with the parent, and will change throughout the course of the year as the child grows and his or her needs change. The daily implementation may vary depending upon any special needs of the child or group on any particular day. The 3:1 adult-child ratio will allow plenty of time for individual cuddling. Activities to stimulate the five senses will be alternated with quiet times throughout the day. Items to Bring for Infants

Toddlers & Twos Schedule

These programs will be flexible enough to bridge the gap between the toddler years and the preschool years. Our primary care-giving system for toddlers takes into account individual routines such as diapering, feeding and sleeping and incorporates the Creative Curriculum for Toddlers. There is also uninterrupted time for discovery and exploration with materials, language and social interaction that helps children to:

- Build a sense of self as competent, cooperative and creative in a place where he or she feels secure and emotionally attached
- Experience increasingly complex ways of communicating with others, develop friendships and problem-solve together
- Learn to use words to express feelings and act appropriately in social situations

Emergency Procedures

Fires/Evacuations

As required by the District of Columbia Office of the State Superintendent of Education, Tiny Findings practices monthly fire drills that are coordinated and monitored by GAO Security and Safety staff. For these drills, staff and children exit the building using the rear entrance to the Center and gather at the emergency assembly area—in the National Building Museum across from GAO. When GAO is conducting a building-wide drill, parents may join their children at the assembly area, but should allow them to return to the Center with their class at the end of the drill.⁴

In the event of an actual fire or another emergency requiring an evacuation, the staff and children will evacuate the Center as described above and parents may join their children in the assembly area. Depending on the circumstances, such as the location of the fire or inclement weather, the Executive Director may choose to move the children to the Center's evacuation site, National Building Museum. Should this happen, a staff or Board member will stay at the assembly area to direct parents to the evacuation site. In addition, Tiny Findings staff members will attempt to use the emergency information on file to contact parents who do not work at GAO and those who have not reached the assembly area/evacuation site to notify them of the situation.

Important: The Sign In/Sign Out procedures discussed earlier in the handbook are still in effect during fire drills and actual emergencies. It is particularly important for the Center to be able to account for all the children during these unpredictable events.

Shelter-in-Place Events

Periodically, GAO will conduct shelter-in-place drills. Tiny Findings children and staff will gather in the first infant classroom (Caterpillars). If this area is not safe, Tiny Findings will relocate to GAO's Human Capitol Office (next to Tiny Findings entry door). Please note that once the building goes into lock-down, no one will be allowed in or out of GAO. GAO periodically updates its GAO Headquarters Occupant Emergency Plan, which may affect the information provided here. GAO employees may access the most current version here. Other Tiny Findings families may request a copy from Tiny Findings.

⁴ Please note, GAO no longer allows parents to return to the building through a Tiny Findings entrance at the end of a fire drill. Parents must re-enter the building through either the G or H Street main entrances.

Government Shutdown

Tiny Findings cannot operate while GAO is closed. During a government shutdown, GAO restricts access to the GAO headquarters to essential staff only. As such, Tiny Findings families and staff are unable to access the Center.

- On the day of a government shutdown, while GAO and tenant organizations are performing orderly shutdown procedures, Tiny Findings management will make a concerted effort to ensure that Tiny Findings remains open to provide childcare while parents complete their orderly shutdown procedures. (note: during the Oct. 2013 shutdown, Tiny Findings was able to open from 7 a.m. until 12:30 p.m.)
- Tiny Findings will, to the extent possible, try to resume normal operations when GAO reopens following a government shutdown.
- Families that use Tiny Findings refrigerators or freezers to store perishable items or medicine for their children should remove these items (in case of power outages, etc.) and take with them any items from their child's personal effects from their cubby or classroom. Any items left in the center may be disposed of at center management's discretion.
- Tiny Findings will communicate its operating status, as it does during inclement weather, via its voicemail system. Tiny Findings management will update the voicemail—as soon as practical after GAO updates its operating status—to reflect the center's operating status for the next day and, if known, the anticipated date for reopening the Center. Tiny Findings main number is 202-512-3122.

In the event of a government shutdown, Tiny Findings will collect tuition for the first two weeks of a government shutdown regardless of whether Tiny Findings families receive retroactive pay.

- In the event Tiny Findings families receive retroactive pay, they will pay retroactive tuition for the duration of the shutdown.
- In the event that Tiny Findings families do not receive retroactive pay, the Board will convene, review the financial status of the center and then make a determination as to what families owe/do not owe in tuition during the furlough period.
- Tiny Findings' Board of Directors believes continuing to pay employees, despite a shutdown, is essential to the extent it is fiscally possible. Tiny Findings is committed to retaining qualified and talented staff. Without pay, Tiny Findings is at risk of losing employees to other job opportunities, which could result in Tiny Findings lacking the necessary employees needed to reopen the Center.
- Tiny Findings Executive Director and the Treasurer of the Board of Directors will work with scholarship families on a case-by-case basis to determine these families' tuition responsibilities.

Other Emergencies

Procedures for other types of emergencies vary, depending on the circumstances of the event. In most instances, the procedures either call for an evacuation of the Center or for the staff and children to shelter-in-place. For further details on the procedures for other types of emergencies, please refer to the Tiny Findings Emergency Response Plan.

Please note: because of our licensing requirements, certain events (e.g. loss of electricity or running water) would require Tiny Findings to close even if GAO remains open.

Parent Manual Agreement

Under the licensing requirements for the District of Columbia, it is required that all families sign a statement indicating that they have read the parent's manual. Signing below reflects that you have read the parent's manual and agree to comply with its policies and practices. If you have any questions or need clarification, please contact Center Management at 202-512-3122.
